DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 8-11 are hereby withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 9/2/04.
2. Applicant's election with traverse of species I in the reply filed on 9/2/04 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that a search directed to the elected invention would necessarily entail a search directed to a method of manufacturing. This is not found persuasive because a search for a method of manufacturing would center around class 29 and not claim 296 which is where a search for the elected species is required.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Information Disclosure Statement

3. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Specification

4. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 6 and 7, "opening/closing direction" is recited which is unclear as to what specifically the applicant intends to recite, the opening direction, the closing direction, a combination of the two, or one of the two.

Also in claim 7, on lines 4-5, it is unclear what is meant by "secure a door thickness".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3612

8. Claims 1 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kowall et al.

For claim 1, Kowall et al. (5,581,947) disclose a vehicle door 10 comprising an outer panel 14 provided on an outer side of a vehicle, an inner panel 12 provided on an inner side of the vehicle and connected to the outer panel, the inner panel having a shape a frame with an outer peripheral portion and an opening formed therein (as seen in Figure 2), and a reinforcing member 24, 44 having a T-shape or a substantially T-shape, at least a first extending portion 24 extending in a right and left direction between right and left marginal portions of the inner panel and having end portions in a longitudinal direction joined to the right and marginal portions said inner panel respectively and a second extending portion 44 extending downward from a central or substantially central part of the first extending portion and having a lower end portion joined to a lower marginal portion of the inner panel.

For claim 6, Kowall et al. disclose a vehicle door comprising an outer panel 14 provided on an outer side of a vehicle, an inner panel 12 provided on an inner side of the vehicle and connected to the outer panel, the inner panel having a shape of frame with an outer peripheral portion and an opening formed therein (Figure 2), and a reinforcing member 24, 44 having at least first extending portion 24 extending in a right and left direction between right and left marginal portions of the inner panel and having end portions joined to right and left marginal portions of the inner panel at locations which are parallel or substantially parallel to the opening and closing direction of the door and a second extending portion 44 ending downward from a central or substantially central part of the first extending portion.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 3-5 are allowed.
10. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
11. Claim 7 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
